Founders Day Celebration:

Alumnus Kent Amos Relates His College Expeience to Students

On February 1, Delaware State College celebrated the 96th Annual Founder's Day with speaker Kent B. Amos, a college alumnus.

Amos illustrated founder's day as a tradition by expressing the institutions of family, corporate firm, and college.

He reflected on his growth as a student and explained it as a "tradition based on educational philosophy that molds students."

"I enjoy being able to look at many young fresh faces and see what has come out of your leadership," exclaimed Amos looking at the diaz of President Luna I. Mishoe and college administrators.

Amos had a track scholarship at predominantly white American University before attending Delaware State College, where he was able to finally discover himself through a rich and supportive black environment.

The distinguished alumnus is president of the Triad Group, a company which specializes in personal management, consulting services, and marketing. Prior to founding The Triad Group, Amos spent fifteen years with Xerox Corporation. During that time, he held several sales and management positions and received numerous awards, including the President's Sales Recognition Award, which he won three times.

"Speaking of the college, Amos said, "Everything I do I owe to you...we are standing on their shoulders."

Amos, active in numerous organizations and civic groups, is Founder and Chairman Emeritus of the Federation of Corporate Professionals, a Board member of the Urban Youth Investment Program and the National Black Leadership Roundtable. He holds life memberships in the NAACP, National Urban League, National Council of Negro Women, and the Delaware State Alumni Association.

"If we understand our history we will bond together as people," stressed Amos.

The foundation of education set at DSC enabled Amos to begin his career moves with the attitude that he quote had what it takes.

But Delaware State College instilled in Amos the importance of public service.

Amos is the recipient of many awards and honors for his public service contributions. These include awards from the Congressional Black Caucus, the D.C. School Board, and the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education. He is a recipient of the National Council of Negro Women's Legacy Award, the NAACP Image Award, Whitney Young Urban League Award, and the Roy Dykes Memorial Award for dedicated service from his co-workers at Xerox. He was selected for Who's Who in Black America and was named by Washingtonian Magazine as a Washingtonian of the Year for 1984.

According to Amos, people often judge success by salary when success should be measured by service. Amos told students: "Become members of the alumni...share in your glory - you will make it possible for him (another student)."

Amos holds a DSC degree in Business Administration. He is a member of the Alpha Kappa Mu Society and the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity. Mr. Amos is most proud of having been selected

Kent Amos

Alumnus of the Year from both Calvin Coolidge High School and Delaware State College, with scholarship funds created at both schools in his name.

He and his wife Carmen reside in Washington, D.C. with their two children, Debbie and Wesley, who is a senior at Delaware State College.

Michelob Sponsors Second Annual Student of the Year Award

The King Student Center has announced the Second Annual Student of the Year Award which is sponsored by Michelob. The purpose of the award is to recognize a male and female student who has excelled in academic and remained actively involved in extracurricular activities on and off campus.

Last year's recipients Kevin Lucas and Jean Rowe jointly enjoyed a $500 shopping spree at a local retail store.

Qualifications are as follows: 1) a full-time student at DSC, 2) have a cumulative GPA of 3.2 or better, 3) active member of campus / community club and/or organization.

The application deadline is February 28 and recipients will be announced on March 4, 1987. Pick up your application TODAY!

1987-88 Semester to Bring Major Financial Aid Changes

By David Adams

The 1987-88 academic school year will host several changes in the U.S. Financial Aid program. Students wanting to file as independent students must qualify for at least one of the following:

1. Independent Students must be 24 years old by Dec. of the award year.
2. An orphan or ward of the court.
3. A veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces.
4. Have legal dependents other than spouse.
5. A graduate or professional student not claimed for income tax by his or her parents the first calendar year of award year.
6. A married person not claimed for income tax by his or her parents the first calendar year of the award year.
7. A single person with no dependents and not claimed for income tax by his or her parents the two calendar years preceding the award year and demonstrates self-sufficiency those two years as evidenced by an annual total of at least $4,000.00 in each of those years.

Students applying for Bank Loans must now take them to the Lending Institution (bank) first to be processed, then it will be sent to the school, and students in their Junior year must have a 2.0 to be eligible for Financial Aid.

The changes have been made as a result of the Re-Authorization Bill effective as of October 1986. "This is the first major change in Financial Aid since I have been working with the program and it has been 16 years", said Leo Lecompte, Director of Financial Aid at Delaware State College. Statistics show students nationwide have been "fraudulent" on Financial Forms particularly on Independent Status, according to Lecompte. He also added, "In my 16 years at DSC I have not found and Del. State students to be Fraudulent."

Statistics show that students are not graduating on time. Financial Aid is only offered to an individual for five years or ten semesters, but students do not realize this and mess around until they use up all their eligibility, stated Lecompte.

Business Dept. to Establish Co-Op with IRS

By Mary L. Rucker

Dr. Samuel D.K. James, chairperson of the Economics and Business Administration Department, said that he has submitted a proposal to establish an ongoing relationship and co-op program with the Internal Revenue Service for accounting and business majors at DelState.

"The purpose of this co-op program is to get more minority students involved with the IRS. And also, we want people in general to modify their concept of the IRS. It's a government agency with a specific purpose. And it has to carry out that purpose. We need to see the IRS in a helpful role more so than an adversary role," said Dr. James.

James also added, "The purpose of IRS's involvement with DelState currently is to establish an ongoing relationship."

He continued, "The IRS (Mid-Atlantic Region) has a series of co-op positions available for accounting and business majors. In order to participate in this co-op program, there are specific criterions that must be met."

-- The IRS is asking for a GPA between 2.5 and 4.0.

-- The student must be a sophomore or junior, male or female.

-- The prospective co-op students must have very good human and public relations skills.

Speaking about human and public relations skills when evaluating taxpayers, James said, "When you evaluate a tax return and discover that the taxpayer owes money, the perspective agent not only has to convince the person that he/she owes money, but it must be done in a humane way so that there're no ill feelings between the taxpayer and the IRS."

James added, "The reason for the sophomore-junior classification status is that the students who enter the co-op program would be involved in working with the IRS for six months and would return to school for six months."

He continued, "The idea here is the student would be highly trained, but more importantly, the IRS is very much interested in training the student without any kinds of distractions, keeping in mind that the IRS agents are highly skilled and trained individuals."

Dr. James said the co-op program will involve 1,040 work hours each year.

"There are positions available now: One in Georgetown, Delaware and three in the Wilmington area. There are other areas where co-op positions are available, namely, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and Baltimore, Maryland," added James.

"I'm very happy that they have filled two positions. One in Georgetown and one in Wilmington," he continued. "We have three business majors who are currently going through this rigorous program."

James said that the positions available pay $12,862 or $5.00 an hour for the first year as a GS4, and $14,390 or $6.11 an hour for the second year as a GS5.

"The student will automatically move from a GS4 the first year to GS5 the second year," added James.

Dr. McPhail Gives Academic Progress Report

By Mary L. Rucker

Dr. Irving P. McPhail, vice president and dean of academic affairs said that he has written a progress report on the academic initiatives for the 1986-87 academic year.

"At the beginning of each academic year at the Annual August Faculty Institute, I present a major address to the faculty of Delaware State College," said Dr. McPhail.

Dr. McPhail

McPhail also added that in this address he outlines the major academic initiatives that will be undertaken in that current academic year.

Dr. McPhail said, "In the area of faculty development, my favorite definition is that coined by Jerry Gaff in his bestseller, Toward Faculty Renewal, that faculty renewal is 'Enhancing the talents, expanding the interests, improving the competence, and otherwise facilitating the professional and personal growth of faculty members, particularly in their roles as instructors'."

He continued, "This academic year, we have strengthened and expanded faculty development programs."

He said that the strengthening and expansion is done by launching grant activities in the new Center for Excellence in College Teaching.

Dr. McPhail said, "The Center for Excellence in College Teaching provides opportunities for faculty members to compete for small grants and summer incentive awards."

He continued, "These grants and awards are designed to give faculty an incentive to revise, develop and experiment with interdisciplinary courses."

He also said, "This is an opportunity for the faculty to receive incentives to become fully engaged in faculty and instructional development."

He added, "At this point, in January, we have received over 20 proposals from faculty members."

McPhail said that they will continue faculty presentations in Faculty Roundtable and Association, launch a new Book Review Luncheon.

"In addition," said Dr. McPhail, "we have launched a new cooperative Tuition Exchange Program involving Delaware State College, University of Delaware, and Delaware Technical Community College."

He continued, "In the Cooperative Tuition Exchange Program, we have provided an opportunity for faculty and staff to take courses at UD and DTCC at our tuition rate, which is the lowest tuition rate of the three institutions."

McPhail said that faculty and staff from UD and DTCC are on DSC's campus taking courses of interest also at the lowest tuition rate.

He said, "The program is working very well, and I am very pleased at the response at the program."

McPhail said that general education is also a major initiative.

He continued, "We have identified Dr. Mary Hoover as our new Dean for Graduate Studies and Research."

He said that this will result in the completion of a long-range strategic plan and College-wide strategy for the support and expansion of both graduate programs and sponsored research activities.

"Furthermore," said McPhail, "I am pleased to announce that I was able to obtain from legislative, last year, a 300% increase in funding for library book acquisitions."

He continued, "For the first time, Dr. Dan Coons, our Director of Libraries, has received a budget of $100,000, all of which will go towards the purchase of books for our library."

Responding to the question what advice he would give to student, McPhail said, "My advice to students is study hard and take full advantage of this unique opportunity in your lives to be students at the undergraduate level," he continued, "Master all of the major disciplines, course area of knowledge that you are being exposed to, and treat this experience very seriously."

Also responding to the question of his position as vice and president and dean of academic affairs, McPhail concluded, "I have thoroughly enjoyed my tenure in this position. I have found the position to be extremely challenging."

He continued, "But I have also found it to be very rewarding."

He added, "We are making substantial progress in enhancing the academic stature of Delaware State College under my leadership."

Dr. McPhail added that he is a results-oriented administrative and that he was very pleased with the fruits of their labor.

He said, "I also thoroughly enjoy working with Dr. Luna I. Mishoe. I think that serves as a highlight of my involvement at the College."

Other initiatives Dr. McPhail has implemented are the Dr. Luna I. Mishoe Scholarship Program for Academically-Talented students, Sussex County Initiatives, Cooperative Education/Outreach Programs, and Strategic Management.

DSC honored the birthday of slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in special ceremony on Jan. 15. See the next issue of the Hornet for highlights and a feature on King's accomplishments.

The View from the Classroom

By Darren L. Hitchens

In a book called the Souls of Black Folk published some forty years after the Emancipation Proclamation, the black historian, W.E.B. DuBois tells of negroes centuries-old yearning for freedom. Then came the Civil War and its bright hopes which were dashed by the events that followed. The vision of political power faded as a result of terror and disillusionment. It was replaced by a new vision, "education!"

Today education is in the headlines and on the front pages of newspapers with arguments of tuition hikes, unqualified teachers, and poor choices of subject matter to teach.

I, a 17-year-old member of the black race, feel that the schools should be asked to do better the things they are doing now for the minority students, but not so much as to change their basic theory about man's capacity to learn.

The black student needs to be taught from where and how his ancestry evolved, where he himself is and if possible, how to improve his outlook to the future.

If we are to build full strength into our nation, we must invest the individual with a sense of civic purpose and dedication as well as cultivate in him the internal intellectual and moral discipline necessary to fulfill the role of an intelligent citizen in a free society.

Let it be known that the total education of an individual is a task in which all of our social institutions participate. The schools should not be expected to do everything. Their primary task is promote maximum achievement and to disseminate knowledge.

The identification and education of teachers for our schools

Shuttle Service is Popular

The shuttle service has turned out to be one of the best things that has happened to D.S.C.

Students use to walk to the mall and run across the street. Now they almost fight for a seat.

You should see them standing in lined. As many as twenty or more at a time. Sometimes the shuttle gets so packed, you can't is now a matter of major concern. It is a national tragedy that the teachers are not humanly able to take the burdens of responsibilities that are placed on them by the board, students and even society.

The responsibility for this rests partially upon our society as a whole, for it has failed to raise the level, stature and esteem of the teaching profession.

Another fault in today's school system is that everyone is in favor of "quality education," "everyone wants to help the "academically gifted." But what about the students who are the opposite of gifted? Are they considered of less importance?

If students are culturally undernourished, have little vocabulary or come from broken homes, what they need is not merely liberal sentiment but direct action by teachers who understand how to deal with their deficiencies.

Conservatives, who argue for more discipline and harder subject matter, seldom pause to think about actual consequences as far as the student is concerned. The most likely consequence is the elimination of large number of students who simply can't do the work.

As a result there are extraordinary pressures on the child from all sides - from parents who urge him to work harder and get good grades and from the community where his "status" is involved.

The task of creating genuine excellence in the development of American citizens through education may still be too great for us. If we can begin by agreeing what the task truly entails, we may set our course toward an education that in time will produce excellence in deed.

see the front from the back.

You don't have to worry about being late because the students will come and get you, even on your lunch break.

I surely hope that the shuttle service is here to stay because it's truly used Every day.

I would like to thank Hicks and his crew for keeping this service for me and you.

It's Black History Learning Time

It's that time of year again. Free Black History Month magazines, first come, first serve - until they run out.

If you watch our four-part series, "The Booker T. Washington Freedom Trail," on public television during Black History Month, you'll learn something about Booker T. Washington that you never knew (and, perhaps, get a new angle), know that a Black college really is, where it came from and why some Blacks and Whites today are trying to get rid of them.

If you don't watch the TV series or see a part of it, you can get the same information - plus our annual Black History Month Quiz - in this special issue of Tony Brown's Journal Magazine.

The magazines are FREE to individuals and groups (200 per box) if you will pay the cost of shipping ($20 per box). For single copies send 88-cents in stamps. Call or write 1501 Broadway, Suite 2014, New York, NY 10036, (212) 575-0876.

Here are some examples from the quiz. It is the oldest Black college west of the Mississippi. Fourteen of its 18 male basketball players made the honor roll last year. Three of the 14 made the National Dean's List. This Black college may have the smartest athletes in the country. Name it.

The 62nd U.S. Colored Infantry was responsible for the initial financing and subsequent creation of what Missouri-based historically Black college?

Alan McPherson is the only Pulitzer Prize winner from the State of Georgia. What Black college graduated him in 1965?

Gen. Daniel "Chappie" James, America's first four-star general trained as a member of America's Black Air Force in WWII at his alma mater. Name it.

Another much larger question is: What are Black colleges? I'll give you my answer now. They take the poor, the downtrodden, the rejects of American society. They take the confused transfers from white colleges and universities, Black students broken and frustrated by a hostile environment, their hopes turned into doubts.

The academic program at the Black colleges fills the gaps in education among the disadvantaged with unrivaled expertise developed out of necessity. For those who left the white campuses with shattered confidence, there is the sensitivity that restores the positive direction necessary to learning.

For both those lacking basic skills and those with dashed hopes, there is an experience that carefully provides the academic and social successes that build a self-image that restores confidence. That is the mission of today's magnificent 114 Black colleges and universities.

The magazine will also give you a lesson on the "militant" Booker T. Washington. "Decide within yourselves whether a race that is thus willing to die for its country should not be given the highest opportunity to live for its country," he once told a white crowd of 15,000 when describing the military service of Blacks to this country.

Another Black History Month gift is our first annual Library of Black History video catalog of over 200 Black-Affairs subjects. The information to order the catalog is contained in the magazine or you can call or write.

"Cast down your bucket where you are" and get Black History Month Materials for your group, college, alumni association or school to disseminate to your community.

THIS YEAR A LOT OF COLLEGE SENIORS WILL BE GRADUATING INTO DEBT.

Being a new graduate with a loan to pay off can take the fun out of your start in the "real world." But here's an interesting alternative to the burdens of debt: sign up with the Army, and we'll sign off on your loan.

Each year you serve as a soldier, the Army will reduce your college debt by 1/3 or $1,500, whichever amount is greater. So after serving just 3 years, your government loan will be completely paid off.

You're eligible for this program with a National Direct Student Loan, or a Guaranteed Student Loan, or a Federally Insured Student Loan made after October 1, 1975. And the loan can't be in default. (Effective April 1, 1986, it is not possible for a soldier to participate in both the GI Bill education program and the Loan Repayment Program.)

College memories should be fond ones. Keep them that way by taking advantage of the Army's Loan Repayment Program. Your local Recruiter can tell you if your loan qualifies. Call today. (302) 736-6937/1089

To my homeboys: Rob, Buster and Moe.

We've now been up here together for 4-5 years. And I want to tell you Bamas I've really enjoyed getting to know you as serious home-boys. Together we've been through a lot but we are all strong enough to keep on up the High ladder. Now is the time to progress in the wild life of society. I'm sure each one of us will be successful in our, individual careers. Be cool and Happy V-Day.

Your Boy, Wes

Valentines

To my Godsister Dannette,
Have a Happy Valentine's Day
and be good!

Love, Adge

My dearest Tony,
I would write an uncountable amount of words expressing how much you mean to me but I can only write a few from ym heart. I love you more than words can say and I hope by saying "Be My Valentine" says it all. You are my "heart," Tony, and I love you dearly.
My love forever yours, LaRhonda

To Gail:
May this Valentine's Day be special and joyous to you. There is no other special person in my life and future. As it is said every black man needs a strong black woman.

From Fred.

Anthony Walker,
To my little brother, who is crazy, as well as sweet and caring.
You're always there when I need you, and I will always be here for you.

Happy V-Day, Nadiyah

To Chicken-Little,
May you have a very Happy Valentine's Day. Much love and happiness is wished for you today and every day. Our friendship means more to me than words can express. I love you.

Robin T.

Happy Valentines to some special people.
Jeff K, Keith C, Bucky Sr, Troy,
Rommate, C Wing Frat, Bogga, Sisey, Dean Moses. etc....

Clinton Bethea,
Thank you for a year of laughs and good times. Only time will tell if there will be more. May God Bless us and guide us. Happy
Valentine's Day.

L.J.

D. Dey
"I love you more than love" I hope this Valentine's Day is as nice as our last one. Maybe this time we can have more fun. Take care honey.

Love You, Donna

Buster,
Even though you're always "on the phone," I'd still like to wish you a Happy Valentine's Day!!
Your friend, Cheryl*

Tee-Jay
Happy, Happy Valentine's Day
to my favorite home-boy! Have a real good one!
Luv, "Your Homegirl"

Lisa Batten (Ex-roommate), Happy Valentine's Day! Hope you have a wonderful day.

Love, Rachel

To: David B. Adams
This is how I feel about you:
Darling
Affectionate
Voluptuous
Inevitable Love
Devotion
Admiration
Dependable
Agel
Mine
Sweetheart
I love you! Happy Valentine's Day!
Stacey G. Edwards

Erica and Wil,
We couldn't ask for better roommates. Happy Valentine's Day!
Lisa

Lisa Batten,
There will come a time when we must make a decision in life.
No matter what it may be, as long as we are together.

Love, Pooh

Alan C. Moses,
To my #1 Big Brother. You have always been there for me.
This is something little to show you that I appreciate everything.
I hope your day is joyful and
happy. "Happy Valentine's Day!"
Love Ya! Your "Sis," Tuana

MS. PRATT
For the past three years, you have been a true friend to me.
You exemplify every meaning of the word. And today I would just like to take time out and say thanks. Happy Valentine's Day, Natasha!

Love, Jay

Happy Valentine's Day to the High Stepping Brothers of Phi Beta Sigma
From Charlie Brown (Blue Blue)

To: My Grandmother, Grandfather, and Mother. I would like to wish you a Happy Valentine's Day. Love you all. Hugs and Kisses.

Happy Valentine:
To that wild and crazy 3rd floor
"A" wing of Jenkins Hall.

From Nessa

Kim,
Happy Valentine's Day and may this be the first of many more that we share.

A.T.W.

Double-D,
Though you and I have had our ups and downs, my love for you will always remain unchanged. I truly hope that you and I can take time to work out our differences, in the meantime, just remember that I love you always and forever.
Happy Valentine's Day!

Stephanie

To my favorite football players,
Cordie, Pres, Loney, Bubba, Rah, Sadiqui, Hoover, Andre,
Charlie and Stone, Happy Valentine's Day!!!

Big Sis, Jeanette, the Ladies of Suite I, and my roomie, Fran!

"Gail"

To the Brothers of Omega Psi
Phi:
Have a Happy Valentine's Day
and save a drink for me!

Your sister, Shirley

You have all it takes to be successful in life -- hard work, determination, patience and wisdom. I hope that you will always be successful and that you find the happiness
you deserve.

Admirer, Dietrik Rush

Jay,
Here's wishing a Happy, Happy
Valentine's Day to a very nice guy
I'm glad to call my friend. Enjoy your day!

Cheryl*

To all Rochestarians:

With love, dedication & admiration, Soror Lane

Peaches, Jane, Leisha, Aisha, &
Tracy:
Happy Valentine's Day, ladies.
You know I could not forget you!
Love, Jay

To my Sweet Valentine Poobie,
The time we've been together has brought me much happiness and I can't wait for the times to come. This Valentine message is sent from the heart to your heart.
With all my love, Minique

Shonna Wright,
Happy Valentine's Day Nay Nay!
You square!
Love, Mia Perkins (Carebear)

To C. Latney,
I wish you all the luck in the world after graduation. Try not to forget me!

Your Homeboy

To #164:
The music started fading out and we weren't even listening.
Now the music has stopped playing. To be "The best of lovers," yet be the "Best of friends" was the secret. So as the love between us ends, I hope that we will always,
no matter what the circumstances, forever remain the "Best of friends!" From the 1st Valentine's Day message of 1983 to the last of 1987, I wish you a Happy Valentine's Day with love.
P.S. Has stayin' in low gear played out? (smile)

Love, Covergirl #1

To the Ladies of Suite I, Happy Valentine's Day and much success! And to the chumpies from Philly, stay cool and try to stay in school.
Homegirl & suitemate, Frann
(Class of 87)

Newm,
To my little brother. We have had a lot of fun times and next year we will have even more.
Wishing you a Happy Valentine's Day.

Love ya, TeeBone

Dear Toot,
You're like a lollipop, big and round, and so sweet!

Tiger

To the Ladies of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.:
Happy Valentine's Day!
Gummi Bear

Ms. Spirits,
I'm really enjoying our relationship. I hope it continues and progresses. Have a nice Valentine's dan and don't suck on your toe nails too hard!

Quiet Storm

Dr. & Mrs. McPhail & Kamilah:
Today it makes it a perfect time to say how grateful I am to have you as my 2nd family. I appreciate and care for you very much. May this day and those to come overflow with love and God's blessings.

Love, Kim Dean (Miss Delaware State College)

To Mr. Wonderful, Kong, Mr. Collision, Wart Nose and all the fellas, Keep away from the bamas and stay kool. Happy Valentine's Day!

Your bob, Rob "87"

To Rog,
Thanks for being a friend.
Happy Valentine's Day!!!
Shahardy

Jeffery (Fondue):
You are just about one of the best friends that a person could ever have and I am so very glad that I HAVE YOU! Hope you have an extra special Valentine's Day.
Stay cool.

Always, "Shorty"

Michelle Goodson,
Happy Valentine's Day, Chellbear. I know you will "My Bust."
Love, Mia

Robert Lee Presbury, Jr.:
Last year we missed Valentine's Day due to irreconcilable differences. The love was there but the pride stood in the way. This year I would not miss it for anything in the world. Robert, I enjoy your company and your love. Have a sweet Valentine's Day and may all our dreams come true.

With all my everlasting love, Lisa

Netta,
Regardless of where we are or what we do, it seems that the best times we spend, we spend with each other. Thanks for being in my world.

Perk

LaRhonda Hall,
Words cannot express the joy and the love that you have given me the past 6 months. You know, every day seems like the first day
we met. You have changed me and I never thought it would happen. So, on this special day, I have just three words to say...Be My Valentine!

Love, Tony Danzey

Happy Valentine's Day Kappa
Diamonds and Kappa Alpha Psi Brothers!

Love, Mia Perkins (AH-HA0)

Joe King,
I am glad we became close friends, I hope our relationship continues to progress. Because I like to see the joy of laughter on your face, and I like to always feel the comfort of your every embrace. Happy Valentine's Day!

Stephie

My. Timothy E. Saddler, Words cannot express what you mean to me. You are so sweet, so dear and a young man whom I will always love. God has created you to be someone special in my heart who I will always love very much. So to me, my love, every day is Valentine's Day when I'm with you! Happy Valentine's Day!
With all my love, Ms. Eva Stewart

To the lovely ladies of Suite E:
Have a Happy, Happy Valentine's Day today and always!
Cheryl* (E-3)

Dear Tim,
Well, Babe, it's been 2 years -- filled with laughs and tears. In those 2 years we have grown so close and learned so much about each other. How you don't like chocolate icecream...and I do.
How I like shopping...and you don't. But one thing we have learned about each other is that we truly have a special love and no one can take it from us. So, on this special day I wish you a very Happy Valentine's Day and hope we share many more together. I love you with all my heart and soul.

With love, Lisa

To Chris and Nish,
Thanks for all your help. Happy
Valentine's Day!

Shanell

To my boo-ba Gernae Dodd, Another year has passed and my love for you gets stronger with every passing day. There's not a moment, a second, or an hour that goes by in a day that I don't think about you. I know if the remaining years are anything as beautiful as our first few together it will be a very rewarding experience.

Love always, Your Stink

To the Cowgirl,
Someone who I am just getting to know, but can tell is something special. Happy Valentine's Day!!
C.R.

Roz,
A Valentine because you're special. This Valentine's special, it's easy to see, because it's for someone who's very special to me. And the wish it brings is only the start of lots more good wishes that come from the heart.
Love always, Guy

To Donald Wicks,
My boyfriend whom I love more than anyone will know. I am wishing you a Happy Valentine's Day!
Love you with all my heart,
Your girl, Stacey

Hey Soul Woman,
I hope this day is a nice one for
you. Keep in mind that I do want prime time and I think you want it also. I really wish you would consider it and remember Rombo Jr.
is always open for invitations.
Happy Valentine's Day!
Rambo Jr.

To My Mook,
Words can only begin to express the feelings I possess for you as a person, a friend, and my man. The times we have shared together will never be forgotten for I have locked those special memories away in my heart. Although at times it may seem as though I am going through changes, please just stay by my side with your love and support. I love you, and we will always have a special bond between us.
Love your Boo-Boo

Anthony Walker,
To my little brother who I care about a great deal. Thanks for always being there when I needed
you.

Love, Adrienne

To all my girls:
Lisa, Nadiyah, Erica, Yvonne
and Loddie. Have a Happy Valentine's Day!

Love, Adrienne

Dear Lisa,
I know sometimes that we don't see eye to eye, but when we do see eye to eye I can see a lifetime of happiness ahead of us. Yes, I really do love you.

Love, Pres

To Jamir,
Happy Valentine's Day! This is our 3rd year together and I just want to thank you for all of the love you have shown and given. I love you!

Renee

Cordie and Pres:
Thank you for always being there when I needed you. You two are the best and I love you!!
Best friends always, Rachel

Robin, Tee & Cathy,
Three young ladies who certainly deserve a Happy Valentine's Day, so go out and make it the best!

Rob "87"

Jim Carrington,
Happy Valentine's Day to a real good friend and homeboy...even though you never come to visit!
(But I'm not mad!!!) Have a good day!

Cheryl Lynn*

To Pinkston, "The One I love."
We have been together for a whole now and things are looking good. I hope we will be together for many years to come, because there is no happiness without
you. Happy Valentine's Day!!
Nadiyah

Valentines

Andre and Tony,
Just wishing you a Happy Valentine's Day! You two are very special to me.

Love your cousin, Whodie

Darryl,

There was a light that wouldn't shine until you came into my life and ever since that day it's been shining bright. You've given me much to smile about as I begin each day and I love you for that and all the other wonderful things that have developed over the past sixteen months. Happy Valentine's Day!

Love, Bev

My dearest Curtis,

I am so glad that God has given us this chance to meet on the road of life. He has put the gift of love in our hearts, and we must fulfill the rest on our own. Happy Valentine's Day!

I love you, Whodie

"Mini Mouse"

I'd like to wish a very nice young man a very Happy Valentine's Day!!

Cheryl*

To my Cousins Aishia, Donnie and Diedra,

Happy Valentine's Day and lots of luck and love!!

Love ya, Donnie

To Sam & B.B.,

Let the dynamite, young "Roster-farians" beware!! Happy Valentine's Day Kidd & Fox!

Mini Mouse

To the Lovely Ladies of Jenkins Hall:

It's so wonderful to think of you all, and good times that we shared. And how nice it's always been to have special friends who cared. So, thoughts of you all on special days prompt wishes warm and true, because it means so much to have special friends like you. Happy Valentine's Day!!

Love, Ray Mitchell

To those beautiful ladies in Crim-son and Cream,

Will you be ours?

The Bold Brothers in Purple & Gold

To my Fiance, Lt. Ronald Wilson,

This is a little reminder of my love for you and that I'll always be there for you. I'm sure you know how much I love you and there aren't enough words in the dictionary to explain, but, I know that our love is eternal and there is no one who can change our minds about having each other. We've been through so much together. We've had our ups and downs but surely have it on the right foot now. After all, you asked me to marry you and Ron, I'm going to make you a promise that everyone will know that I will love you and make you the happiest husband in the world. I wish you the happiest Valentine's Day ever and I'm sure we will have many more.

Love your fiancée, Jackie

To Stephanie,

Through our ups and downs you have managed to keep me around. I love you!!

Mel

To all Omega Essences:

You are the best and the rest are just mere imitations!! We luv ya!!

The Bros.

Moe,

Let's enjoy this special day over a glass of milk. Happy Valentine's Day.

Love, M and M

To the Chester (2) in J-230, Deb and Brina:

Keep doin' what you do best --and I'm not talking about break-in' hearts!!

Kim Hairston,

You are very special to me, even though you might not think so. But no matter what happens in the future, your smiling face will always be with me. I love you!

Elvis Hines

Dear Gerry,

I love you! Not just today, but every day ... I always have, always will. You're "my sunshine," babe, and we've got a lifetime of love and happiness and many, many good things in our future. Remember, there's no one quite like you, and no two quite like us! Happy Valentine's Day!

Love you always, your wife, Sherrell

Reba Fountain,

Thanks for being my "Mom" and my "Best Friend." Happy Valentine's Day! Hugs & Kisses!

Your daughter, Jenee

Happy Valentine's Day to my Sorors of Tau Beta Sigma and the Brothers of Kappa Kappa Psi!

Love, Soror Monique

Rachel, Londa, Renee, Eva, Terri, Pebbles, Lisa, Leslie, Angela and Kim,

I hope your Valentine's Day will be a wonderful as mine. Especially you, Rachel. Happy Valentine's Day!

Love, "The Rev"

To Mr. Wonderful,

I hope your Valentine's is as tantalizing as I am!

Love, The Ghose

David,

Happy Valentine's Day to a very special man. Getting to know you and to love you has been and still is a wondrous time in my life. You fill my every day with all the joy, love, and happiness that anyone could give. May we always find happiness and true love in our future together. Forever will you have my heart. Forever will you have my love.

Love you always, Nona

Captain Crunch,

I pride myself in believing I know the most intelligent of people. So, when are you going to exercise your gifted mental ability and realize that I like you! A lot! And since we have had a limited conversations on the subject, you can figure it out. Happy Valentine's Day, Captain!

Happy Valentine's Day to some of the chilly ones: Tracey and Tracy, Kia, Mike, Lisa, Clinton, Carlton, Andres, Michelle, Boobie, Tony and Kenny!

Love ya, T.C.H.M.

Amanda,

This is just a little note to let you know you're being thought of on this special day. Happy Valentine's Day!

Your cousin, Whodie

Cheryl,

A very nice young lady ... Happy Valentine's Day!!

Mini Mouse

Pooch,

It's nothing else I can say that you don't already know. So, if you did manage to forget, "I love you!!" Happy Valentine's Day,

Ray

Wendy Fresh,

Wishing you a Happy Valentine's Day!! God Bless You.

Love, Whodie

Happy Valentine's Day, Jenee Green!!

Buster

To my Eyes and Breath of Life:

Nothing in this world is going to come between us as long as you love me as much as I love you. I'll always be there just for you.

Love you very much, "Boo"

To Anita Dale,

A young lady who I will always admire and will always have a special place in my heart.

CJB

Henry Johnson,

Happy Valentine's Day "Homey-Home!!!"

Love, Jedina

To Angie C.,

To a person who I admite and care for a lot. Stay as sweet as you are!

"Secret"

Wes,

Just wanted to say Happy Valentine's Day!! By the way... How's life "off the yard?" (smile)

Your friend, Cheryl*

You are a very special person. I hope your girlfriend realizes how special you are and is making you very happy.

Admirer, Dietrik Rush

Mr. O'Henry,

May this Valentine's Day hold special memories for you as it does for me. Time is not of the essence. It's not a question of who is to blame, because we're both being ourselves, and there is no fault in that. I'm not sure what it is but I think that beneath it all we both believe in our hearts we have something worthwhile and special if we can sort through all of the confusion.

Love, Butter Cups

Preach,

This is a new you with new ideas with new feelings and great promises. We have a new year to change ourselves and our lives, and become the persons we set out to be. The love we shared was great and our heartaches were painful, but in the end our love lasted throughout our breaks. Remember, July 4th is that special date, so until then may our love nurture as life starts over again. Happy Valentine's Day!

Love, Sassy Doll

To 3rd Street, Washington, D.C.,

Since this is Valentine's Day, I just want to take a special moment to tell you how thankful I am to know a person as special as you, because such specialness only comes along once in a very long and special while. Happy Valentine's Day!!

Love, 490 C-MD

RJSII,

At this point in time most things have been said and most things are known. So, basically, all that's left for me to say to you today is...Happy Happy Valentine's Day!! (Besides I wouldn't want to get you in any TROUBLE!) (smile)

Love Always, "Me"

Stacey,
Happy "1st" Valentine's Day!!!

Love, Thomas

To my sweetheart Tracee,

Some things in life are hard to put into words but not when they pertain to you. Because anything I say to you comes straight from the heart, that's why it's so easy to just say "I love you." Have a Happy Valentine's Day and always be sweet and stay in my heart because that's where you belong.

Luv, Leodis

To Miss Glass,

If I'm counting correctly it's been a couple of years now since we became friends. And with each passing day my love for you grows stronger and stronger. Always know that in my heart I'll always care, no matter what you may think.

Burton Heads All Conference Picks

Joe Burton, Delaware States outstanding defense back, was named to the Kodak All-American team, as well as being voted Defensive Player of the Year for the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference.

Burton recorded 77 tackles and snagged five interceptions, as he headed a list that hosted 19 Hornets picked for All-Conference honors. Eight Hornets received first team honors, four were second, and seven earned honorable mention.

The other seven Hornets bestowed first team honors were: Tony Danzy (guard), Terrance Hoover (runningback), and David Parkinson (placekicker) on the offensive side. Defensively, the Hornets posted Kevin Bryant (linebacker), John Lane (punter), and both ends, Robert Presbury and Lybrant Robinson, with the former leading the team in tackles (91).

Dan Candeloro, last year's MEAC Defensive Player of the year, headed the second team picks. The other selections were: Gerald Cordova (tight end), Roger Johnson (offensive tackle) and Chris Jones (center).

Honorable Mentions picks included: Reggie Barnes (runningback), Mike Cherry (defensive back), P.J. Lee (return specialist), Charles Loney (defensive tackle), Justin Proctor (offensive tackle), Willie Sheppard (defensive back) and Andre Williams (linebacker).

The number of eight first team All-Conference selections fell one short of tying the Hornets record of nine from last year's squad.

Alan Hooker, North Carolina A&T's stellar quarterback, was voted MEAC offensive player of the year.

Wrestlers Win Big in Tournament

Delaware State's grapplers proved strength is in the heart and not in numbers, by having four of the six man team place in the 11th annual Hornet wrestling tournament on Jan 10th.

New head coach Pete Basile saw four of his wrestlers walk away with tournament trophies, including one championship.

Del-State finished sixth out of ten competitors and was spearheaded by Derrick Johnson, first at 150 pounds; Fred Vann, second at 126; Tyrone Gray, second at 142; and Len Taylor, third at 142.

Johnson avenged a 8-4 loss to Rich Shaffer from earlier in the season with a technical fall victory in pursuit of his championship. Johnson was leading the match 18-3 when it was stopped.

Vann was nipped 6-5 after letting a 5-0 lead slip away and teammate Gray was decisioned 8-6.

Pitt-Johnstown racked up 80½ points to edge Millersville (76½) for the tourney championship.

LOVE

Is there really such a thing or is it just another passing fling
When a person says 'I Love You'

I think it's true

But are they in love with you or
In love with the things you do
How can you say you're in love
When 5 minutes later

You're thinking about another female dove

Love has a definition that is hard to find

If I try to define love

I may lose my mind

Because that word 'Love' has got me into trouble

Many a day

The words 'I Love You' come out of my mouth

Once in a blue moon

Those words will come back to haunt you

If you say them too soon

The word love is said all around the world

And men use it, to get that girl

One should always be on that quest to find 'True Love'

You'll know it when you find it because it fits like a glove

If you find it soon, or if you find it later

I know that compared to anything in this world

There is nothing Greater

Love

Youth Day Set for Basketball Tournament

Greensboro, NC--Thursday, March 5 has been set as "Youth Day" during the 1987 Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference Men's and Women's Basketball Tournament. The tournament will be held Thursday through Saturday, March 5-7 at the Greensboro Coliseum in Greensboro, North Carolina.

The MEAC proposed Thursday's Youth Day" in return for the community support being offered the tournament. There will be two sessions on that special opening day. Session one's morning schedule will have women's games at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m., and a 1:30 p.m. men's game. Session two's evening schedule will have women's games at 5:00 and 7:00 p.m., and a 9:00 p.m. men's game.

On "Youth Day", all students in grades one through 12 will be admitted for just $1.00 during each session.

For the "Youth Day" morning session only, teachers and other chaperones will be admitted for $1.00 also; but must pay the full ticket prices for Thursday's evening session.

Ticket prices on Thursday are $7.50 per session for adults, and $5.00 per session for college students.

Ticket prices on Friday are $10.00 for adults and $7.00 for all students. Friday's schedule has only one session with women's games starting at 2:00 and 4:00 p.m., and men's games set for 6:00 and 8:00 p.m. starts.

Ticket prices for Saturday, March 7 finals are $12.00 for adults and $8.00 for all students. The women's championship game is scheduled to start at 5:00 p.m., and the men's championship match is slated to start at 7:00 p.m.

Rev. Jesse Jackson Inspires Huge Audience at DSC

by Cheryl Granville
Editor-in-Chief

"We must rise above the racial battleground to create the economic common ground to create a moral highground," declared Rev. Jesse Jackson as he inspired a crowd of over 1,000 at DSC on Feb 15.

Rev. Jackson expressed the importance of the struggle to combat the economic imbalance and racism in our nation caused by 'dreambusters.'

As Rev. Jackson preached at Wilmington's St. Marks United Methodist Church on the morning of Jan. 15 just before arriving at Del State, someone had written "NIGGER BEWARE" on the sidewalk and racist leaflets were scattered on the ground.

"Don't allow that expression into thinking that was the dominant theme of the church. It was not. They were embarrassed. They had invited us," affirmed Rev. Jackson.

A thousand people gathered by the church and worshipped together, said Jackson, because such statements of racism—from Wilmington to Howard Beach, N.Y., to Forsyth County, GA—are caused by 'dreambusters.'

"The dreambusters came at night and wrote 'nigger beware,'" Jackson insisted.

In Rev. Jackson's eyes, racists in America are attempting to call the issues, which must not happen.

"The dreamers cannot let the dreambusters define who we are," he emphasized.

Although current laws have made acts of racism illegal, we must continue the struggle.

"We must determine who the ally is and who the adversary is," declared Rev. Jackson.

Rev. Jesse Jackson. (Photo by Paul Brown)

Howard Beach, N.Y., is not investing in South Africa, or laying off thousands of auto-workers just after the election, Rev. Jackson said.

"The site of the fight isn't the pizza parlor in Howard Beach," preached Rev. Jackson.

"Which comes closer to Rev. King's dream: Queens or Wall Street? It's not the working class whites versus the working class blacks."

Today's struggle has to take place at the factory gate, at the nuclear missile site, at the farm where a man is struggling against financial headship, said Rev. Jackson.

Rev. Jackson, who accepted a cake with a likeness of himself and a bronze city coin seal from Charles Witt, Vice mayor of Dover, commended soon retiring President Luna I. Mishoe for his dedication to the college.

"This is a very special president," praised Rev. Jackson as he and Dr. Mishoe stood together. "He has done more with less than any president in the state of Delaware...He has done much with little." The crowd gave a standing ovation.

Rev. Jackson believes that Del State faces a very special challenge because, like other historically black colleges, it is "talking the rejected stones and making them into corner stones."

Black students have been rejected at some predominantly white institutions "not because they didn't have the ability...but because they were born behind the veil."

Rev. Jackson departed after his half-hour speech leaving an uplifted audience who seemed unquestionably touched by his wisdom.

41 Students Selected For Who's Who

The 1987 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will include the names of 41 students from Delaware State College who have been selected as national outstanding leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success. They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations. Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Students selected from DOVER are: Diane Adriance, Lolita Burrell, Berta Cherry, Andrea Daniels, Frank Divita, William Dumas, Kelly Lorraine Ellis, Cheryl Gmuer, Donna Kay Gunkel, Adrienne Holloway, Timothy James Huffman, Amber Irwin, Margaret Etha King,

Terri A. Lang, Joan Marie McMullen, Margaret L. Moor, Michael F. Schwartz, David L. Spinner.

Students selected from KENT COUNTY are: Vincent Arkins, Camden; Susan Biro, Smyrna; Marti S. Carroll, Frederica; Andrew F. Cottrell, Wyoming; Michael Gondolfo, Camden; Thomas C. Kennish, Wyoming; Charles Moller, Camden-Wyoming; Glenn Roberts, Camden.

Students selected from SUSSEX COUNTY are: Reginald Q. Bowden, Nassau; Angela Maria Collins, Seaford; Vicki M. S. Friend, Lewes; Karen Harmon, Rehoboth; Penny L. Hoey, Milford; Elise I. Larrimore, Milford; Aaronell Loper, Rehoboth; Wade Robinson, Seaford.

Presidential Candidates Narrowed to Three

by David Adams
Staff Reporter

Delaware State College will conduct an "on campus interview" of the three final presidential candidates from April 7th through the 9th here in Dover. The three candidates remain after a screening process directed by the Board of Trustees Sub Committee which involved more than 100 applicants from all over the country, according to a press release.

"The candidates will be on campus Tuesday through Thursday," said Ms. Winifred Harris, Executive Assistant to the President. Harris further said, "Lee Jones should have information on the developments Monday April 6, 1987. Jones was not available for comment.

The topic has been "hush-hush" since the Search Committee began its screening in December of 1986. "I feel the candidates may be receiving protection of their present jobs," said Glen Ford, a DSC Freshman. The names of the final 3 applicants are being kept confidential as well.

The Hornet Newspaper has utilized every resource available to inform the school of developments in the President search, but the Board of Trustees has not released any information to the public. The selection of the new President will be made by the Board of Trustees prior to June 1. The successful candidate will assume office July 1, 1987.

Summer School Set For May 18

The first session of DSC summer school begins May 18.

The four-week program, Monday through Thursdays until June 11, will offer a wide variety of courses in all fields of major.

Students may register now or on May 13 and 14 at 8 p.m. Fees are $40 per credit for Delaware students and $80 per credit for out-of-state students.

There are day and evening courses available.

The Continuing Education Office can be contacted for further information.

Soviet-American Relations Conference on Nuclear War to be Held in Dover

DOVER—A major educational conference about Soviet-American relations and the prevention of nuclear war will be held in Dover on Saturday, April 11, at the Dover Sheraton Inn, 1570 N. DuPont Highway.

Entitled "Prescription for the Planet in the Nuclear Age," the conference will bring together nationally known experts from the fields of medicine, psychology, religion and defense. The conference is sponsored by the Delaware chapter of Physicians for Social Responsibility (PSR), and is open to the public.

In an attempt to encourage dialogue between the United States and the Soviet Union, the conference will include presentations by two Soviet scientists. Alexei Dmitriev, Ph.D., executive director of the Soviet Affiliate of International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War (IPPNW), will contribute to a presentation on the prevention of nuclear war from the Soviet perspective. He will be joined by Professor Galina M. Savelyeva, M.D., who is a member of the USSR Academy of Medical Sciences and head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Second Medical Institute in Moscow.

National PSR President H. Jack Geiger, M.D., professor of medicine at the City University of New York, will give a presentation on the medical consequences of nuclear war. The IPPNW is the organization which won the 1985 Nobel Peace Prize, and Physicians for Social Responsibility in the U.S. affiliate.

Other presentations will include "Star Wars and the Nuclear Arms Race," by retired U.S. Air Force Col. Robert M. Bowman, Ph.D. Dr. Bowman is president of the Institute for Space and Security Studies and former manager of advanced space studies for the General Dynamics Corporation.

Dr. Helen Rodriguez-Trias, associate director of pediatrics and primary care at Newark, N.J. Beth Israel Medical Center, will discuss how the nuclear arms race affects the health of children; and the renowned psychiatrist, Dr. Jerome Frank, professor emeritus at Johns Hopkins University, will discuss "Psychology, the Nuclear Arms Race and Hope."

In addition to these major presentations, the conference will include workshops throughout the day on "Teaching in the Nuclear Age," citizen action and each of the topics covered by the speakers. A special workshop has been scheduled on "Morality and Nuclear War," featuring a panel of religious leaders representing the Catholic, Episcopal,

Jewish, Methodist, Presbyterian and Quaker faiths.

Continuing education credits toward the Physicians Recognition Award of the AMA will be awarded. Continuing education credits for nurses, psychologists and teachers also have been requested.

Admission to the conference will be $8 for the general public and $4 for students. Pre-registration may be sent to PSR/Delaware, PO Box 7588, Newark, DE 19714. Make checks payable to PSR/DE, and be sure to include your name, address and telephone number.

Report Shows Social and Economic Data on Blacks

A 1980 census report consolidating previously published socioeconomic data on the Black population for the United States, regions, census divisions, states, and selected counties and places has been issued by the Commerce Department's Census Bureau.

Tables provide information on population growth and distribution, age and sex, household and family characteristics, educational attainment, labor force participation, unemployment rates, and income and poverty. Black population counts for 1970 also are included.

Geographic areas covered are counties and places with 50,000 or more Blacks in 1980, places of 1,000 or more total population with a Black population of at least 50 percent, and counties with a Black population of 50 percent or more.

Here are some facts from the report:

Money Income

- States with the highest Black family median income in 1979 were Vermont ($20,750), Alaska ($19,280), and New Hampshire ($18,870). States with the lowest were Mississippi ($9,010) and Arkansas ($9,050).

- Black family median income in Gary, Ind., and Flint, Mich., at $19,000 was the highest for cities with 50,000 or more Blacks.

- The Maryland counties of Montgomery and Prince Georges (suburbs of Washington, D.C.) had the highest Black family median income, at $23,000, among all counties with 50,000 or more Black population.

Poverty Status

- Mississippi had the highest poverty rates for both Black individuals (44 percent) and families (39 percent).

- The poverty rate for Blacks varied from 16 percent in Inglewood, Calif., to 44 percent in East St. Louis, Ill., among the cities with 50,000 or more Black population.

- Prince Georges County, Md., had the lowest poverty rates—7 percent for Black families and 9 percent for Black individuals.

Labor Force Participation

- About one-fourth of Black families in West Virginia had no members in the labor force, the highest proportion of any state.

- Among counties with 50,000 or more Blacks, labor force participation rates for Black men were highest in the Maryland counties of Prince Georges and

Black Population Grows By 10% Since 1980, Census Bureau Says

The nation's Black population grew by 2.6 million or 10 percent from 1980 to 1986, according to the Commerce Department's Census Bureau.

The bureau's latest annual population estimates by age, sex, and race indicate that Blacks totaled 29.4 million in 1986 compared with 26.8 million in the 1980 census. Only 15 percent of the growth was from immigration.

The Black population has been growing faster than the total population and its proportion rose from 11.8 percent in 1980 to 12.2 in 1986.

The report shows the White population grew from 195.1 million to 204.7 million during the period, an increase of 5 percent. Most of the gain came from natural increase.

Here are other findings from the report for 1986:

- The Black population's median age was 26.9 years compared with 32.7 years for Whites. The six-year difference has remained fairly constant since the 1970s.

- Black females outnumber Black males 15.4 million to 14.0 million. Males outnumbered females only through age 18, reflecting more male births.

- White females totaled 104.5 million compared with 100.1 million White males.

Copies of Estimates of the Population of the United States by Age, Sex, and Race: 1980 to 1986, P-25, No. 1000 are available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

UMES Sponsors Summer Study/Work Program

The University of Maryland Eastern Shore in collaboration with the Ocean City, MD Chamber of Commerce will offer a special 12-week summer study/work program. The program will afford students the opportunity to study and reside on the University of Maryland Eastern Shore campus, some 40 miles from Ocean City, while working in Ocean City during the coming summer.

The special 12-week summer session is designed for students currently enrolled at UMES or in other colleges and universities. Students from other campuses of the University of Maryland system may wish to participate in this program to accelerate their program or to make up deficiencies as both credits and grades are transferred to other colleges and universities according to the recipient institution's policies and procedures.

Special summer program students are invited to participate in the Ocean City, MD Job Fair, April 11, 1987, 40th St. and Coastal Highway. The Fair, sponsored by the Ocean City Chamber of Commerce will extend job opportunities for participating

Students Gather in Washington to Ban Tests

On April 2, college students from across the country took action to help stop the nuclear arms race. The students participated in the fourth annual University Lobby to End the Arms Race sponsored by United Campuses to Prevent Nuclear War (UCAM). The lobby day was a chance for students and faculty nationwide to urge Congress to pass legislation calling for a Comprehensive Test Ban treaty (CTB).

The Mutual Nuclear Warhead Testing Moratorium bill (H.R. 12), in the House of Representatives, was introduced by Reps. Patricia Schroeder (D-CO) and Richard Gephardt (D-MO).

UCAM, the only organization devoted to building a campus movement to end the arms race, holds the annual event to teach students effective citizen skills for a lifetime of use.

The cost of participating in the events is $10. Housing will be arranged by the national office for a nominal fee. The registration fee includes a one year membership to UCAM and subscription to monthly Network Works.

For further information, contact UCAM at (202) 543-1505, 220 I Street, NE, Room 130, Washington, D.C. 20002.

Chairperson of Education Department Retires

Dr. George R. Kent, chairman of the Education Department, Delaware State College, for five years, and founder of Delaware State College's first graduate programs, retired from the College on December 31, 1986.

Dr. Kent, renowned educator for more than forty years, was honored by students, staff and faculty at a Graduate Student Council meeting on December 2, 1986, in the Commuter Lounge of the Martin Luther King Center. Dr. Kent was honored with a huge clock-plaque from the College presented by Mrs. Winifred C. Harris, Executive Assistant to the President, and with a small plaque from the Graduate Program Directors: Mrs. Ernestine Brittingham-Brown, Dr. Richard Bieker, chairman of the Business Department, Dr. Samuel D. K. James, and Graduate Programs Dean, Dr. Mary R. Hoover.

The reception for Dr. Kent was a surprise for him. It was billed as a Graduate Student Council meeting designed to set forth the purposes of that organization. That section of the meeting was also a tribute to Dr. Kent. Testimonies came from students in the Education programs, the Business program, Social Work program, and the new Chemistry program.

As a student from the Social Work Department stated, "The MSW Program has truly changed my life." Some of the organization's purposes were networking, governance, motivation to improve the intellectual atmosphere, problem-solving, socializing, planning activities, forming a Graduate Honors Council, and serving as a forum for input into state concerns.

In addition to students' testimonies, faculty from Social Work, Chemistry, Business, Physics, Education, and English spoke enthusiastically about the benefits that graduate programs, through the initial efforts of Dr. George Kent, have brought to Delaware State College.

Find Financial Aid Through National Scholarship Search

If you're concerned about having to sell the family homestead to pay for college expenses - stop shaking and read on. There are billions of dollars - yes, billions - available in financial aid for prospective and enrolled college students. All you need to know is where to look.

There are literally thousands of scholarships offered yearly by Churches, corporations, philanthropic and professional groups, etc. and every year, over $150 million dollars in financial aid goes unused because no one applied.

How do you find out what's available in financial assistance for YOU? Easy, you research. There are books in most libraries and book stores listing as many as 2,000 sources of college financial aid. Your academic advisor is another excellent source of information as is your local banker.

Because of the tremendous growth in the number and value of such student financial aid sources, as well as in the complexity of seeking out those which relate to YOUR particular needs and circumstances, several computer assisted research firms have emerged to help in the search effort.

National Scholarship Search is one such firm. It has access to a data base containing over 15,000 financial aid sources valued at over $4 billion dollars, the firm guarantees to find at least five, and as many as twenty five, possible sources of financial aid, based upon biographical data supplied by the student.

If they fail to locate at least five sources they refund the nominal processing fee, which is claimed to be less than one half of what some other search firms charge. They serve college-bound high school students as well as college freshmen and sophomores. Their mailing address is: 6645 Cam. Scioto, San Diego, CA 92037, (619) 459-5525, ext. 912.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks, DSC

Dear Editor:

Dedicated people deserve recognition and appreciation. Therefore, I would like to give special thanks and acknowledgement to the instructors in the E.H. building at Delaware State College and friends.

The support each of you gave so generously during my personal hardship was beyond words.

Your encouragement of determination to hangin was what gave me confidence to pursue my education and not consider withdrawing. Thank you for working with me during my unpredictable schedule with patience, warmth and sincerity.

I am aware that I can not list all of the instructors, students and friend that reached out to help me, however, I'd like to personally thank: Roslyn D. Harris, Dr. N. Crumly, Dr. A. Jenkins, Dr. W. Rhodes, Ms. L. June, and Mr. Struge.

Thank you and God bless.

Come talk with Renee

Dear Student Body:

I'm back! The challenge of trying to obtain the Miss Black America Title has made me stronger than ever before.

I have not returned just to sit back and enjoy the scenes, but to work for you.

I've implemented a program entitled, "Come talk with Renee" for our educational and social desires. The program is to inform us of controversial, moral and contemporary issues of today.

The opening show will be April 9, 1987 at 4:30 p.m. in Conwell Hall Lounge. Our vice president and dean of academic affairs will share with us his past success, present endeavors and future dreams for Delaware State College.

Come allow us to stimulate your communication skills and share with us your ideas, comments or questions.

See you there!!!

Raise the Minimum Wage

by Dr. Manning Marable,
"Along the Color Line"
March 1987

When a full-time worker earns less than $7,000 annually, it's impossible to provide essentials for a decent life for one's family. Yet since Reaganites came to power back in 1981, federal minimum wage, set at $3.35 per hour, remained the same. At that level, five million people earning minimum wage or less earn at most $6,968 per year. Federal poverty level for a family of four is currently $10,989; for a two person household, it is $6,998. Today's minimum wage rate would have to be increased to $4.61 per hour to make up the deterioration in inflation since 1981.

Good news on the political front is the Iran-Contra scandal hurt Reagan so severely the conservative administration may be forced to capitulate to Democratic Party and AFL-CIO demands to raise minimum wage. Senator Majority Leader Robert Byrd predicted last month that Congress would hike the minimum wage rate. Democratic Senator Ted Kennedy, head of the Senate's Labor and Human Resources Committee, accurately states: "The minimum wage is not a living wage, and it is not a decent wage in which a full-time job means a lifetime of poverty." Democratic Representative Mario Biaggi proposed legislation which would elevate a current minimum level of $5.05 by 1991, and index rate to one-half average hourly earnings level. Currently, minimum wage is only 38 percent of average hourly wage.

On the defensive, the administration lacks political muscle to eliminate demands for higher minimum wages. In previous years, Labor Secretary William Brock deplored and ridiculed calls for hiking minimum wage. But at last month's AFL-CIO winter meeting in Florida, Brock insisted to reporters that the administration had not "made any decision" regarding minimum wage. "We haven't even addressed it at the Cabinet level."

Regrettably but predictably, the ideologues of ultra-right attempting to hold-the-line on wage increases to working poor. Prominent conservative journalists and economists alike—most of whom earn salaries of $50,000—are pretending to advocate interests of poor folk and unemployed by keeping the lid on their wages!

Chicago Tribune columnist Stephen Chapman recently charged that higher wages for the working poor would force thousands of businesses to "transfer their operations overseas to take advantage of cheaper labor", or to simply "go out of business." Chapman insisted: "Raise the price of oil, and people use less of it; raise the cost of unskilled workers, and companies will employ fewer of them. Raising the minimum wage helps workers who keep their jobs—at the expense of those who get laid off and those who are never hired, because their value is less than the cost of employing them." One recent study by Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago argues a reduction in hourly minimum wage for teenagers would greatly decrease youth joblessness. Bank economists assert a 25 percent cut in wages for youth would increase the number of low-paying jobs as much as 36 percent.

These arguments and other conservative apologetics for lower wages don't square with facts. It is true that higher labor costs can lead to higher prices, and many bosses reduce the number of workers in response to increased wage rates. However, lower wages also contribute increases in welfare rates, street hustling, petty crime and drug traffic, because people frequently resort to anti-social activities that is the only way in which their children are going to eat and survive. If working mother is with several children cannot provide for housing, day-care, food, electricity, medical bills, clothing, etc., from the meagre wages she receives at a dead-end job, she'd be foolish not to resort to welfare. Higher wages give the working poor greater self-respect.

What's the hidden agenda of the Reaganites who want to cut the wages of young workers? Conservatives may be vicious, but they aren't ignorant. By reducing wages for teens, youngsters will be given jobs which generally go to semi-skilled low waged adults. In the struggle to keep their jobs, adults will be forced to tighten their belts and take wage cuts as well.

Let's fight for a decent living wage for all. A minimum wage of $5.05 is not only absolutely essential—we must also have massive job training and public works projects which give skills and much-needed experience to working people.

Dr. Manning Marable teaches political science and sociology at Purdue University. "Along the Color Line" appears in over 140 newspapers internationally.

Why Boycott Revlon?

Operation PUSH has a "Don't Buy Revlon" campaign. First, we are demanding that Revlon close its operations in South Africa and completely divest all of its holdings in that repressive nation.

Secondly, PUSH will support a boycott presently planned by South African activists against the Revlon Corporation which has a manufacturing outlet in South Africa, to protest the injustice represented by Revlon's presence in South Africa.

Third, we are furthermore engaged in this boycott because of remarks of Irving Bottnner, president of the Revlon Professional Group, who is quoted as stating that the products produced by black manufacturing companies were inferior and that the black beauty health and beauty aids companies would all be sold to white companies within two (2) years. It is our contention that Bottnner called this boycott by his insensitive and contemptuous remarks. The remarks insult and humiliate black consumers and maligns African-American firms, implying that African Americans have no pride in heritage and in seeking to develop an industry which they originated from the outset.

Fourth, we join in solidarity with our brothers and sisters in South Africa to protest Revlon's apartheid policies in the United States, where a lily-white management uses its access to ad and promotional monies to exploit the black African-American market.

Finally, it is our intention to hold funerals in fifty (50) markets where we will dispose of the remains of Revlon in response to a company which disrespects African American consumers and the aspirations of the African American Community.

Report

Montgomery (about 82 percent), and lowest in St. Clair County, Ill., and New York County, N.Y. (both 58 percent). Labor force participation rates for Black women ranged from 43 percent in St. Clair County, Ill., to 76 percent in Prince Georges County, Md.

Education and Family Composition

- Black adults in Inglewood, Calif., recorded the highest level of high school completion at 84 percent for cities of 50,000 or more Blacks. Macon, Ga., and Miami, Fla., were lowest at about 37 percent.

- Wisconsin had the highest proportion of Black families maintained by women at 48 percent; the lowest was North Dakota with 6 percent.

Population

- Wisconsin had the youngest

Black population and the District of Columbia had the oldest—with median ages of 21.7 years versus 29.2 years.

- Black females outnumbered Black males in 31 states. Hawaii had the highest sex ratio with 212 males per 100 females while New York had the lowest with 84 males per 100 females.

- The states with the highest proportion of Blacks were Mississippi (35 percent), South Carolina (30 percent), Louisiana (29 percent), Georgia (7 percent), and Alabama (26 percent). The District of Columbia's population was 70 percent Black.

- From 1970 to 1980, California had the largest numerical Black population gain of about 420,000, while Hawaii had the highest proportional gain of 129 percent.

The sample data presented in the report are subject to sampling variability and response errors.

The Lyceum Committee of the Delaware State College Faculty Senate, presented world renowned jazz/classical musician, Wynton Marsalis, on Friday, February 20, in the Education-Humanities Theatre -- dazzling a near capacity crowd.

The young trumpet player, who splits his time between jazz and classical music, electrified his audience with several captivating solos.

In his first two selections in the show, Marsalis seemed to be having difficulties with his instrument. The reason: Friday night was his first time playing the cornet in a jazz concert. Marsalis said after the show, "I am preparing for a classical tour to start in a few weeks, and wanted to sharpen up on the cornet. It has been a year and a half since I played classical selections in a concert."

Marsalis, who is 25, was given his first trumpet at age six by Al Hirst (his father's employer at the time) but didn't take the instrument seriously until his classical studies began at the age of twelve.

"I studied classical music," he said, "because so many young musicians were scared of this big monster called classical music on the other side of the mountain. I wanted to know what it was that scared everybody so bad. After you sit up there and play all those scores, you find out that classical musicians are just like all other musicians, most of them are mediocre and a handful are excellent. You learn composers' tricks, the ideas they use over and over, the difference between an inspired piece of writing and just some notes that are there to get you from one place to the next."

"But as far as both musical idioms are concerned," he continued, "I think I know it's harder to be a good jazz musician at an early age than a classical one. In jazz, to be a good performer means to be an individual, which you don't have to be in classical music. But I've played with orchestras and all that, some people think I'm a classical musician who plays jazz. They have it backwards! I'm a jazz musician who can play classical music."

Wynton Marsalis became the second musician and youngest in Grammy history to win the "Best Jazz Instrumental Performance, Soloist" award over three consecutive years when Black Codes (From the Underground), his previous album, won in both "Soloist" and "Group" categories at the 1986 Grammy Ceremonies last February.

J. Mood, his fifth album on Columbia Records, finds the celebrated young man in jazz continuing to refine his already prodigious skills as composer and musical leader.

Rutgers Researcher Speaks on Advancement of African Civilization

By David B. Adams
Staff Reporter

"One can not use African peoples living on the coast of a country to get a real understanding of their entire civilization," said Ivan Sertima, lecturer, author and researcher of Rutgers University February 18, 1987 as part of the Black History Month celebration sponsored by Umfubuzi and Black Studies under the direction of Dr. Damas Kenjatta.

Sertima, who has published several books on African developments in science and the heritage of the African Diaspora, despite this, told his audience Russia could destroy twelve U.S. cities with four bombs in four minutes. Sertima added that, "The U.S. has a satellite beyond the Sun. Another war could devastate the core of our civilization, but people will survive."

Dr. Sertima noted that Africa was smelting steel 15,000 years before Europe. Africa had an Astronomical calendar in 300 B.C. Africa developed Hieroglyphics; built skyscrapers that would span twelve blocks in Manhattan. Africa had the earliest books on Medicine and was also "proven to be the 'mother land' of the human race."

"These advancements in science, medicine and technology have been banned from the world," said Sertima. This is evident from the destruction of many books that contained proof. "We have stumbled over many things and now look at a scattered Africa. I bring up these points about my heritage in order the truth be seen by all peoples. I hope to eventually bring the African peoples back together from all over the African Diaspora," concluded Sertima.

"Ivan Sertima was very thorough," said Mrs. Minnette Simms, a DSC employee and student. She voiced the general attitude of the standing room only audience, "brilliant and humble, a combination seldom found."

Alumni Office Sponsors Seminar for Graduating Seniors

In a little over 60 days, approximately 400 students will graduate from Delaware State College leaving behind them the sanctity of college life. Some grads will self-assuredly and confidently tackle life on the outside. Some will eagerly declare their independence with great ease. Then there will be others who will be more tentative and unsure of themselves. For these individuals the new challenges; new experiences, and new responsibilities that life will present, may at first seem intimidating.

April 4, the Office of Alumni

Affairs at Delaware State College sponsored a Seminar for Graduating Seniors. The main purpose of the seminar was to provide valuable information which can be of immediate use to new grads.

Alumni and friends of the college from the areas of Business, Finance, Insurance and Home Management offered tips to help new grads effect a smooth transition from college-life to real-world. Questions were answered which will make life in the outside seem less intimidating for beginners.

Newsbreak from the Library

This first column of the semester is all odds and ends of news.

In a previous column, I talked about an upcoming visit from a Government Printing Office Inspector. Well Mr. Gulati came and went on December 11. We did not do great, but we did adequately. We shall remain a federal depository at least until the next inspection in about four years. I am hoping that the inspection report will give more impetus to improving depository services here.

In a similar vein, the Middle States Association team came and went in early March. This was an interim evaluation of the whole college. We did well. Our accreditation is not in danger. Because Dr. Coons was in charge of the college's presentation of itself and the team met in the Library, it was a frantic couple of days for us.

Margaret Y. Houchin resigned her position here to take a job in Virginia. The day staff slot that she left vacant has been filled by Rebecca E. Batson from the evening staff. The evening staff slot that Ms. Batson vacated has been temporarily filled by Mr. Joseph T. Konecny. A permanent replacement is being recruited.

We do keep busy...

America Needs A Hero For Every Age.

From the Revolutionary War to the War in Viet Nam, in national crises and natural disasters, the National Guard has always been ready when America called.

Today is no different. The Guard still needs the kind of people who know peace and freedom don't come cheap. Who are willing to stand up and be counted when the chips are down.

If you're one of them—and you've got two days a month and two weeks a year to invest in something important—we've got a job, a pay-check, and some pretty attractive benefits waiting for you.

Talk to your local Army Guard recruiter today.

Because "hero" doesn't have to be just a word. It can be the face you see when you look in the mirror.

Black History Feature: Langston Hughes

By Pam Cannon

Langston Hughes (1902-1967). Intelligent, creative and very productive in literature. As a writer, he was one of the first Black men to make profitable career while facing hardships in the 1920's to the 1950's.

Hughes wrote anthologies, drama, poetry as well as fiction and in his spare time traveled to become part of lecture tours. His two autobiographies -- "The Big Sea" (1940) and "I Wonder As I Wander" (1956) wrote against a background of incessant activity and movement.

Langston Hughes began to remain as the interpreter of the social, cultural, spiritual and emotional experiences of Black America. He sought to explore the black experience in its people which includes the way they talk, dress, dance and their dreams.

Hughes earned great standing in his first book of poetry The Weary Blues that was published in 1926. The majority of the short stories, plays and poems written by him were taken from the Black Experience in America and life in Harlem.

The biggest climax, though, in Hughes' career began to take off when he created the character of Jesse B. Semple which later became Simple. This character portrayed the Black man's pain and wisdom but was never consumed by anger or fear of racial indifferences.

Hughes symbolized Simple with a comic viewpoint of the black and white America: "simple" men will emerge to pronounce "simple" truths to provide "simple" solutions.

I, Too

I, too, sing America
I am the darker brother.
They send me to eat in the kitchen.
When company comes,
But I laugh, and eat well, and grow strong.

Tomorrow, I'll be at the table
When company comes.
Nobody'll dar Say to me,
"Eat in the kitch," Then.

Besides,

They'll see how beautiful I am
And be ashamed--

I, too, am America

America Celebrates King's Birthday

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

By Cheryl Granville

Millions of Americans celebrated Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday, Jan. 5, which was recognized for the second time as a national holiday on Jan. 20.

The college held a Jan. 15 ceremony in honor of King hosting several community officers and guest speaker Ethel Payne, a civil rights advocate and author. Classes were cancelled for the day so that all could reflect on King and his contributions to mankind.

A civil rights leader and minister often called a "Drum Major for Peace," King was born in Atlanta, Georgia on January 15, 1929. He was slain on April 4, 1968 in Memphis, Tennessee.

King was awarded the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize for his role in the U.S. civil rights movement as a leader of nonviolent demonstrations to advance legal and social equality.

He earned worldwide fame in 1956 when he led a boycott of the public buses in Montgomery, Alabama.

King lectured all over the nation, conferring with governors and religious leaders and discussed the problems of blacks here and abroad.

He helped organize the civil rights march on Washington in 1963 and in the anti-discrimination and voter drives, which spurred passage of the federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Voting Rights Act of 1965.

In 1967 King announced his opposition to the Vietnam war, creating nonviolent demonstrations against both discrimination and war.

As president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, King led protests against segregation in the South. He was arrested on several occasions for violating state segregation laws, and was physically attacked several times by segregationists.

Despite these incidents, King continued to advocate nonviolent resistance as the prime method to be employed by Negroes in their struggle for equality.

King's birthday celebration brings memories of his "dream" - a dream that many say has not come true, but is still "alive."

"I Have a Dream"

"...I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character.

"I have a dream today.

"I have a dream that one day the State of Alabama, whose governor's lips are presently dripping with the words of interposition and nullification, will be transformed into a situation where little black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and white girls and walk together as sisters and brothers.

"...And if America is to be a great nation this must become true. So let freedom ring from the prodigious hilltops of New Hampshire. Let freedom ring from the mighty mountains of New York. Let freedom ring from the heightening Alleghenies of Pennsylvania!

"...When we let freedom ring, when we let it ring from every village and every hamlet, from every state and every city, we will be able to speed up that day when all God's children, black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, will be able to join hands and sing in the words of the old Negro spiritual, "Free at last! free at last! thank God almighty, we are free at last!"

DSC Interview

Secretary Says Enthusiasm is the Bottom of All Progress

By Mary L. Rucker

Barbara Guliana, secretary of the Department of Physics and Biology said that you can do anything if you have enthusiasm.

Guliana also said that enthusiasm is at the bottom of all progress.

Barbara, a creative, ebullient, and enthusiastic individual, discusses her background and goals.

HORNET: What have you done since graduating from high school?

GULIANA: Since graduating from high school, I attended college, got married, worked in several positions. Before relocating in Delaware, I was an office manager and administrative assistant to the president, as well as the corporate secretary for the 100 employee company, we founded in Michigan. My second business, which is also in Michigan, is a travel related company, which I still have an interest in.

HORNET: Since the College offers free courses through the continuing education department, are you taking advantage of this opportunity?

GULIANA: Yes. This semester I'm taking American Civilization to 1865 with Mr. Lauter, and Biology 100 with Dr. Gus Ofosu. I am looking forward to taking both. I understand the teachers are excellent and enthusiastic. I'm pursuing a degree in business administration. Since I have been in my own company before, I want to get a better background to start into business again.

HORNET: What do you plan to do when you get your college degree?

GULIANA: I hope to go into an area of expertise that I've studied for an start a service-oriented company.

HORNET: How do you feel about taking courses at DSC?

GULIANA: I think it's an asset that employees are given the opportunity to attend the College. I think everyone should take advantage of it.

HORNET: Do you have trouble relating to younger students?

GULIANA: No. I'm from a large family. I enjoy younger people, because they keep you young as well.

HORNET: What advice would you give to younger students?

GULIANA: My advice to students is indicated in this little quote by Henry Ford that I live by. I call it, "You Can Do Anything."

"You can do anything if you have enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm is the yeast that makes your hope rise to the stars. Enthusiasm is the sparkle in your eye

It is the swing in your gate, The grip in your hand, The irresistible urge of your will.

Enthusiasts are fighters. They have fortitude. They have sustaining qualities. Enthusiasm is at the bottom of all progress. With it, there is accomplishment, Without it, there are only alibies. So go for it kids!!!"

Paget, Bermuda

"To be an active and positive voice for the student body, and be a role model for incoming students and an inspiration to the outgoing ones. I would like to improve the social status of DSC, and most importantly promote unity among our college family...to earnestly carry out Miss DSC's expectations and diligently work toward some of our long awaited goals."

Troy Metz
Marketing
Senior
New Castle, De.

"Because I feel that my leadership skills and experience will enable me to effectively represent the school. Miss DSC is not only an aspiring representative of the school, but unyielding for all tasks given to her, also dedicated, active and creative for and with her student body!"

Joy 'Sissy' Ford
Social Work
Junior
Long Island, New York

"If I must begin by putting it into words then I must say it is because of my energetic personality and my never ending leadership quality. If I am to go further it is because I am overall the most qualified candidate."
